Wolseley Industrial Group appoints Daniel Hogge as district manager for the Mid-Atlantic region

Geographic build-out across 44 states complete with experienced leadership across the U.S.

Newport News, VA – June 20, 2017 – Daniel Hogge has been appointed district manager of Wolseley Industrial Group’s Mid-Atlantic region, which includes Georgia, South Carolina and North Carolina and most of Florida and Virginia. Effective Aug. 1, Hogge will be responsible for managing the financial results of Wolseley Industrial Group’s Mid-Atlantic business, developing associates and ensuring customers in the region receive superior service.

Wolseley Industrial Group’s build-out throughout the U.S. and appointment of experienced leaders is part of an overall strategic initiative to provide consistent customer experiences and unmatched delivery of PVF products and services to grow revenue and profitability.

“I am humbled to be given the opportunity to lead the Wolseley Industrial Group throughout the Mid-Atlantic,” says Hogge. “I am very excited about continuing to work with a group of associates who are truly the best in the business. We have built a very strong foundation and I look forward to seeing the success and growth our group will continue to achieve.”

Hogge joined Ferguson in 1997 as a trainee in Newport News, Virginia and held several positions in the Hampton Roads, Virginia area including inside sales, outside sales, sales manager and branch manager. In October 2015 Hogge became director of industrial for the Mid-Atlantic markets.

A native of Gloucester, Virginia, Hogge graduated from Radford University in 1997.
